

AMERICAN BANKRUPTCY
INSTITUTE

2017 Southeast Bankruptcy Workshop

Faculty Biographies

Brian R. Anderson is a member in the Bankruptcy and Creditors' Rights practice group of Nexsen Pruet, PLLC in Greensboro, N.C., where he focuses his practice in the areas of bankruptcy, creditors' rights and commercial litigation. He represents banking and financial institutions, secured and unsecured creditors, contractors and guarantors before state and federal courts and delivers counsel on a wide range of matters, including complex chapter 11 cases, avoidance actions and adversary proceedings. Previously, Mr. Anderson clerked for Hon. Thomas W. Waldrep, Jr. of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Middle District of North Carolina. Board Certified in Business Bankruptcy Law by the American Board of Certification, he was named a "North Carolina Rising Star" in the areas Bankruptcy and Creditor/Debtor Rights in Super Lawyers from 2014-17 and named to Business North Carolina's "Legal Elite" in the area of bankruptcy in 2015 and 2017. He also was recognized by Chambers USA as an "Up and Coming" lawyer in the area of Bankruptcy/Restructuring in North Carolina for 2017. Mr. Anderson received his B.S.B.A. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and his J.D. cum laude from American University Washington College of Law.

Eric W. Anderson is a partner in the bankruptcy group of Parker, Hudson, Rainer & Dobbs LLP in Atlanta, where he concentrates his practice in bankruptcy, workouts, financial restructuring and commercial finance. He represents lenders and other parties in bankruptcy and financial restructuring matters both in and out of bankruptcy, debtor-in-possession financing, purchase and sale of assets of distressed companies, and various related transactions. A frequent writer and speaker, Mr. Anderson is an ABI Board member and a past chair of the advisory board for ABI's Southeast Bankruptcy Workshop, and he has contributed articles to the ABI Journal and other publications. He is a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy and chairman of the College's 11th Circuit Educational Programs Committee, and is a member of the boards of directors of the Southeastern Bankruptcy Law Institute and of Meritas, a worldwide law firm organization. He also served on the board of directors of the Atlanta Bar Association and is a past chair of the Atlanta Bar Association's Bankruptcy Section. Mr. Anderson was selected as one of Georgia's Legal Elite in 2007-14, and has been listed as a "Georgia Super Lawyer" in Atlanta Magazine. He is also recognized by Chambers USA as one of America's leading lawyers for business, and by The Best Lawyers in America. In addition, he is a Master of the Bench in the W. Homer Drake, Jr. Georgia Bankruptcy Inn of Court. Mr. Anderson received his undergraduate degree with distinction in 1982 from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his J.D. cum laude in 1986 from the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Michael M. Beal is a practitioner with Beal, LLC in Columbia, S.C., and works primarily with distressed companies, committees and creditors in out-of-court restructurings, chapter 11 bankruptcy cases, and related litigation and transactional matters. He also enjoys mediating complex commercial and bankruptcy matters. Mr. Beal has led debtor restructuring engagements in manufacturing, distribution and commercial real estate, as well as creditor engagements or creditors' committee engagements in hospitality, commercial real estate, health care and manufacturing, and has represented an indentured trustee in the chapter 9 restructuring of a toll road. He also has served as counsel to state and federal court receivers and bankruptcy trustees in numerous matters, including fraud cases. He is approved to serve as a Circuit Court Mediator by the South Carolina Board of Arbitration and Mediator Certification and has completed the ABI/St. John's University School of Law 40-Hour Bankruptcy Mediation Training program. Prior to founding Beal, LLC, Mr. Beal led the bankruptcy practice at McNair Law Firm and clerked for Hon. J. Bratton Davis, Chief U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the District of South Carolina. He received the Mega Company Turnaround of the Year Award by the Atlanta Chapter of the Turnaround Management Association in 2013-14, has been named in The Best Lawyers in America from 2003-16 for Bankruptcy and Creditor Debtor Rights/Insolvency and Reorganization Law, Bet-the-Company Litigation, Litigation - Bankruptcy, “Lawyer of the Year,” Litigation: Bankruptcy – Columbia (2012), and “Lawyer of the Year,” Bankruptcy and Creditor-Debtor Rights – Columbia (2010). He was also listed as a Legal Elite of the Midlands in Columbia Business Monthly in 2015 and in South Carolina Super Lawyers for Bankruptcy-Business from 2008-16. Mr. Beal received his B.S. in 1981 from the College of Charleston and his J.D. in 1984 from the University of South Carolina.

Daniel F. Blanks is a partner and vice chair of the Bankruptcy and Financial Restructuring Practice Group of Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP in Jacksonville, Fla., where he focuses on bankruptcy, financial restructuring, distressed-asset acquisitions, creditors’ rights, commercial workouts, consumer financial litigation and commercial litigation. He is experienced in representing corporate debtors, official and unofficial committees of creditors or equity-holders, asset-acquirers, plan administrators, liquidating trustees, secured lenders, creditors, and other stakeholders in a variety of business chapter 11 cases, as well as foreign trustees in chapter 15 proceedings. In addition, he has defended multiple defendants in class-action and single-plaintiff lawsuits brought under the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, Fair Credit Reporting Act, Telephone Consumer Protection Act and comparable Florida state laws regarding consumers. Mr. Blanks is admitted to practice in Florida, New York and Virginia, and before the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Fourth and Eleventh Circuits, and the U.S. District and Bankruptcy Courts for the Northern and Southern Districts of New York. A frequent writer and speaker, he was named in “Virginia Rising Stars” for Bankruptcy & Creditor/Debtor Rights in Super Lawyers for 2008 and 2009, and was named to the “Top Forty Under 40” in the Hampton Roads Business Journal in 2008. Mr. Blanks received his B.A. in government from The College of William & Mary in 1996 and his J.D. cum laude in 2002 from the University of Richmond, where he served on the editorial board of the Richmond Journal of Law & Technology.

Joseph A. Bledsoe, III is the chapter 13 trustee for the Greenville, New Bern, Fayetteville and Wilmington Divisions of the Eastern District of North Carolina and is based in New Bern. Prior to his appointment in April 2014, he represented consumer debtors in bankruptcy for 20 years. Mr. Bledsoe is a frequent speaker before the Bankruptcy Section of the North Carolina Bar Association, a former member of the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys, and a current member of the National Association of Chapter 13 Trustees. His published articles include “Under § 1329, the ‘Disposable Income Test’ Applies in a Post-Confirmation Plan Modification – Doesn’t It?” (Newsletter of the NACTT Academy, March 23, 2015, reprinted March 30, 2015), and “The Theory of Harris” (NACTT Quarterly, Vol. 27, No. 4, July/August/September 2015). Mr. Bledsoe received his B.A. cum laude from North Carolina State University in 1989 and his J.D. in 1992 from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Sarah Beckett Boehm is an attorney at McGuireWoods LLP in Richmond, Va., and her practice focuses on representing corporate debtors, lenders and creditors in a variety of business chapter 11 cases, including US Airways, Circuit City, AMF Bowling, Patriot Coal and Alpha Natural Resources. She also has experience representing creditors in matters involving mortgage, servicing and loss mitigation, and chapter 5 causes of action. Prior to joining McGuireWoods LLP, Ms. Boehm clerked for Chief Judge Douglas O. Tice, Jr. and Hon. Blackwell N. Shelley, both of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. She received her B.A. in 1995 from Miami University and her

J.D. cum laude from the University of Richmond School of Law, where she was a senior notes and comments editor.

Edward C. Boltz is a member of the Law Offices of John T. Orcutt, P.C. in Durham, N.C., and has managed the firm's Durham office since 1998. He represents clients in chapter 13 and 7 bankruptcies, as well as in related consumer rights litigation, including fighting abusive mortgage practices. He is a member of the North Carolina State Bar, where he has been certified as a specialist in consumer bankruptcy law, and he is admitted to practice before the U.S. District Courts in both the Eastern and Middle Districts of North Carolina. Mr. Boltz served as president of the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys (NACBA) from 2013-16 and previously served as its secretary, and he has been jointly responsible for directing the NACBA State Chair program. He is also a member of its board of directors and co-chair of its Legislative Committee. In addition, he serves on the Bankruptcy Council for the North Carolina Bar Association and previously served as the bankruptcy chair for the North Carolina Association of Trial Lawyers. Mr. Boltz is a frequent speaker on bankruptcy issues at both national and local seminars, including at NACBA conventions and workshops, past NCLC workshops and the North Carolina Bankruptcy Institute. In April 2008, he testified on behalf of NACBA in Congress regarding the need for changes to the Bankruptcy Code to protect National Guards and Reservists from the harsh results of the means test, enacted as the National Guard and Reservists Debt Relief Act. Mr. Boltz received his B.A. from Washington University in St. Louis in 1993 and his J.D. from George Washington University in 1996.

David K. Bowsher serves as partner in charge of Adams and Reese LLP's Birmingham, Ala., office. His practice focuses principally on corporate and transactional matters, including those involving troubled companies, and on bankruptcy and corporate restructuring issues. He also spends time in the firm's D.C. office on governmental-relations matters. Mr. Bowsher came to Adams and Reese from the U.S. Department of Commerce, where he served as acting general counsel and deputy general counsel. During that time, he advised senior U.S. government officials on a wide variety of issues, including providing financial assistance to distressed industries (e.g., the automotive and steel industries), foreign direct investment, congressional oversight and investigations, coastal development litigation (particularly oil- and gas-related development), export control licensing and enforcement, and internet governance. He also co-led U.S. engagement with the People's Republic of China on transparency in government as part of the Strategic Economic Dialogue and led U.S. participation in the U.S.-China Legal Exchange as part of the Joint Commission on Commerce and Trade. In addition, he clerked for Hon. William H. Yohn, Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Bowsher received his B.A. in English and American literature (with honors) and economics from Brown University in 1995. After teaching English at the Culver Academies in Culver, Ind., he received his J.D. cum laude in 1999 from Duke University School of Law, where he was an articles editor for the Duke Law Journal and was elected to the Order of the Coif.

Christine E. Brimm is a partner with Barton Brimm, PA in Murrells Inlet, S.C., and has been certified as a Specialist in Bankruptcy and Debtor-Creditor Law by the South Carolina Supreme Court. She represents chapter 11 debtors and chapter 11 and 7 trustees, as well as creditors in a wide range of commercial and consumer bankruptcy matters. Her practice is state-wide, and she regularly appears in all three bankruptcy courts in the District of South Carolina. Ms. Brimm began her career in defense litigation and draws on her early experience in civil litigation frequently in her bankruptcy practice, where a large part of her practice involves representing chapter 7 trustees in various adversary proceedings and contested matters. She is actively involved in the South Carolina Bankruptcy Law Association, having chaired or otherwise helped plan the annual seminar every year since 2013. She currently serves on the Board of the South Carolina Bankruptcy Law Association, and has served on ABI's Southeast Bankruptcy Workshop Advisory Board since 2015. Ms. Brimm received her J.D. from the University of South Carolina School of Law in 1994.

Matthew R. Brooks is a senior associate at Troutman Sanders, LLP in Atlanta and a member of its financial restructuring and insolvency practice group. His diverse practice includes the representation of every major constituency in complex bankruptcy cases and out-of-court restructurings, as well as in non-bankruptcy matters that involve insolvency issues. He also routinely represents clients from a wide range of industries in state and federal courts around the country in the prosecution and defense of complex commercial claims. Mr. Brooks received his B.S. magna cum laude from Appalachian State University in 2004 his J.D. cum laude from Mercer University School of Law in 2008.

Beverly M. Burden has served as the chapter 13 trustee for the Eastern District of Kentucky in Lexington since 1999. She previously clerked for Hon. Joe Lee, and prior to that was an assistant attorney general for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, concentrating on consumer fraud litigation. Ms. Burden has served on the faculty of the annual meeting of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges, the annual convention of the National Association of Chapter Thirteen Trustees (NACTT), the Midwest Regional Bankruptcy Seminar, the Judge Joe Lee Biennial Bankruptcy Institute, the UK Biennial Consumer Bankruptcy Law Conference, and numerous other regional and local CLE programs. She serves on the board of directors of the NACTT Academy for Consumer Bankruptcy Education and is a regular contributor to www.considerchapter13.org. Ms. Burden was the 1997 recipient of the Kentucky Bar Association's Justice Thomas B. Spain Award for Outstanding Service in Continuing Legal Education and in 2017 was inducted as a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy. She received her J.D. from the University of Kentucky College of Law and holds a B.B.A. in accounting.

John B. Butler, III is a practitioner with John B. Butler III P.A. in Columbia, S.C., and specializes exclusively in the representation of creditors, trustees and defendants in business and consumer bankruptcy matters. He served as a chapter 13 trustee for 15 years before resigning to focus solely on representing creditors in bankruptcy cases. Mr. Butler is a former law clerk and was an adjunct professor of bankruptcy at the University of South Carolina School of Law. He is a nationally published bankruptcy author with articles appearing in the Westlaw Bankruptcy Journal, American Bankruptcy Law Journal, Commercial Law Journal and South Carolina Law Review. Mr. Butler authored The Bankruptcy Handbook, a two volume bankruptcy treatise published by Knowles Publishing, and he is often requested to speak at local and regional events. He was certified by the South Carolina Supreme Court as a Bankruptcy Specialist and served on its Bankruptcy Specialization Committee, which he chaired. Since 1981, he has been exclusively involved in all aspects of bankruptcy representing clients ranging from the New York Times to small community banks. Mr. Butler is AV-Rated by Martindale-Hubbell and was listed in The Best Lawyers in America from 2008-17. He also was Lawyer of the Year - Litigation-Bankruptcy 2014 Columbia and was listed in Super Lawyers for 2008, 2009 and 2013-17. Mr. Butler received his B.A. magna cum laude in 1978 from the University of South Carolina in 1978 and his J.D. from the University of South Carolina School of Law in 1981.

Nicholas K. Campbell, CIRA, CDBV is a managing partner with Meru, LLC in Atlanta, where he specializes in identifying and addressing operational and organizational issues for distressed companies across a variety of industries. Previously, he was a senior director with Alvarez & Marsal North American Corporate Restructuring Practice for more than 10 years. Mr. Campbell is member of the board of directors for the Turnaround Management Association (TMA) and a member of the Association of Insolvency and Restructuring Advisors (AIRA). He received his B.S. and M.B.A. from the University of Georgia.

Rudy J. Cerone is a member of McGlinchey Stafford PLLC in New Orleans and a former chair and president of the American Board of Certification. A frequent lecturer on both business and complex consumer bankruptcy issues for more than 20 years, he also served as on ABI's Executive Committee as Secretary, co-chaired ABI's Bankruptcy Litigation Committee from 2005-06 and chaired its Hospitality, Entertainment Venues and Gaming Subcommittee from 2001-05. Mr. Cerone serves as a commissioner on the ABI Commission on Consumer Bankruptcy (2017–present) and as a co-chair of its Caribbean Insolvency Symposium (2015–present). He also is former chair, president and board member of the American Board of Certification. Mr. Cerone currently is a member of the State Bar of California, the Louisiana State Bar Association (for which he chaired its Consumer Protection and Bankruptcy Section from 1994-97), the Bankruptcy Law Advisory Commission of the Board of Legal Specialization, the Bar Association of the Federal Fifth Circuit and the American Bar Association. An author and lecturer on both business and complex consumer bankruptcy issues, he is Board Certified in Business Bankruptcy Law by the American Board of Certification (1993) and by the Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization (1997), and is also a Fellow of the American College of Bankruptcy. Mr. Cerone received his B.A. summa cum laude from the University of California at San Diego and his J.D. cum laude from Boston College Law School, where he was a member of the Order of the Coif and received a “Best Law Review Editor” award as executive editor of the Boston College International & Comparative Law Review.

Hon. Edward J. Coleman, III is a U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judge in the Southern District of Georgia in Savannah. Prior to his appointment, he was in private practice in Augusta, Ga., for 31 years with the firm of Surret & Coleman, P.A., where he concentrated his practice in domestic relations, insurance defense, criminal defense and bankruptcy, with an emphasis on creditor and trustee representation. He also served as a chapter 7 panel trustee in the Southern District of Georgia from 1994-13. is admitted to practice in Georgia and before the U.S. District Court for the Southern and Middle Districts of Georgia, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit and the U.S. Supreme Court. Judge Coleman served on the Executive Committee of the Family Law Section of the State Bar of Georgia from 2003-10 and chaired that Section from 2008-09. He also was active in the Augusta Bar Association, serving as its president in 2013. Judge Coleman received his B.B.A. in 1979 from Emory University, where he majored in accounting, and his J.D. in 1982 from the University of Georgia, where he served as a member of the Moot Court Executive Board.

J. Patrick Darby is executive vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary of HealthSouth Corp. in Birmingham, Ala. Before joining HealthSouth in 2016, he was a bankruptcy lawyer at Bradley Arant Boult Cummings and an adjunct professor at the Cumberland School of Law. He has represented debtors in chapters 11 and 9 and out-of-court restructurings, and secured lenders, bondholders, construction companies, buyers of distressed assets, trade vendors and preference/fraudulent-transfer defendants. Mr. Darby's significant health care cases include filing two chapter 11s for Carraway Methodist Hospital, restructuring Cooper Green Mercy Hospital in the Jefferson County chapter 9 case, representing the buyers of hospitals and other health care properties in several chapter 11 and chapter 9 cases, and representing debtors and lenders in various assisted living, skilled nursing facility and other health care cases. He also was part of the defense team in the AseraCare False Claims Act case. Mr. Darby is a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy. While in practice, he was listed in Chambers USA, The Best Lawyers in America and Alabama Super Lawyers. Mr. Darby received his undergraduate degree from Dartmouth College and his J.D. magna cum laude from Washington & Lee School of Law, where he was editor in chief of its law review. He subsequently clerked on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Melissa J. Davey is a member of Stites & Harbison, PLLC in Atlanta and practices in its Creditors' Rights and Bankruptcy Service Group. Her practice focuses on representing institutional lenders and other creditors with respect to troubled loans in bankruptcy, workouts and commercial litigation. She also regularly defends servicers and lenders in consumer and mortgage-related litigation related to foreclosure and consumer-protection statutes such as FCRA, FDCPA, TILA, TCPA and RESPA. Ms. Davey serves as the current co-chair of the Georgia Network of the International Women's Insolvency and Restructuring Confederation and is a former president of the Metro Atlanta Consumer Bankruptcy Attorney Group. She also is a board member at large for the Bankruptcy Section of the Atlanta Bar Association, and she serves on the Bench and Bar Committee for the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia, for which she previously served as chair. Ms. Davey serves on the advisory board for ABI's Southeast Bankruptcy Workshop and is also a barrister in the W. Homer Drake, Jr. Georgia Bankruptcy American Inn of Court. She received her B.A. in political science and French magna cum laude with honors, and her J.D. from the Emory University School of Law in 2003. During her junior year of undergrad, she studied at the Sorbonne and the Institut Catholique in Paris.

Hon. Mary Grace Diehl is a U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Northern District of Georgia in Atlanta, appointed in February 2004. Prior to taking the bench, she was a partner in the litigation section of Troutman Sanders LLP and chaired its Bankruptcy Practice Group. During her years in private practice, she was consistently named in The Best Lawyers in America and Chambers US: America's Leading Business Lawyers. Judge Diehl is the immediate past president of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges, and serves on the Boards of Directors of ABI and the Turnaround Management Association. She is also a Fellow and vice president of the American College of Bankruptcy and a former president of the Southeastern Bankruptcy Law Institute. Judge Diehl received the Woman of the Year in Restructuring Award in 2008 from IWIRC (International Women in Restructuring Confederation) and is a regular speaker at CLE programs. She served as a trustee of Canisius College from 2008-14 and has been an adjunct professor of law at Emory Law School. Judge Diehl received her B.A. summa cum laude from Canisius College in Buffalo, N.Y., and her J.D. cum laude from Harvard Law School.

Alex J. Dolhancyk is a practitioner with The Dolhancyk Law Firm, P.C. in Jonesboro, Ga., and has more than 27 years of experience in consumer bankruptcy cases. He is the current Georgia state chair for the National Association of Consumer Bankruptcy Attorneys (NACBA), is Board Certified in Consumer Bankruptcy Law by the American Board of Certification, holds an LL.M. in international business law from Emory University School of Law, and is a Chapter 13 Committee member of the ABI Commission on Consumer Bankruptcy. Mr. Dolhancyk has numerous reported bankruptcy cases, including Whaley v. Tennyson, 611 F.3d 873, (11th Cir. 2010), where he argued on behalf of the debtor. He is also a member/advisor on the Bench and Bar Committee for the Bankruptcy Court in the Northern District of Georgia. Mr. Dolhancyk is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, in the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Sixth and Eleventh Circuits, and in Georgia, Tennessee and New York. He received his B.A. from the University of Tennessee and his J.D. from the University of Memphis.

Jeffrey R. Dutson is a senior associate in the Financial Restructuring Practice Group in King & Spalding's Atlanta office, where he represents a broad range of clients in complex financial restructuring and insolvency matters. He has represented debtors, secured lenders and other investors in a variety of chapter 11 bankruptcy cases and large commercial workouts. Mr. Dutson frequently represents institutional senior-secured lenders in syndicated credit facilities, with particular experience in the health care, energy, transportation, manufacturing and media industries. He has been selected as a "Rising Star" for Financial Restructuring in IFLR 1000's Financial & Corporate guide. Mr. Dutson is a member of ABI and the Turnaround Management Association, and he frequently speaks and has published a variety of articles on restructuring and insolvency issues. He is a Fellow of the American College of Investment Counsel, and he serves as the southern reporter for the college's Private Notes newsletter. Mr. Dutson has served on the board for the NextGen Turnaround Management Association in Atlanta, and has served as a member of the Associates Committee and a member of the Hiring Committee for the firm's Atlanta office. He received his B.A. cum laude from the University of Georgia and his J.D. with honors from the University of Chicago.

Robert F. Elgidely is an attorney with Genovese Joblove & Battista, P.A. in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and regularly represents clients in connection with bankruptcy, construction, ERISA/employee benefits, federal taxation and real estate disputes in Florida and New York. For the past six years, his practice has primarily been devoted to the representation of chapter 7 trustees in bankruptcy cases stemming from mass fraud. Mr. Elgidely represented the chapter 11 trustee of Rothstein Rosenfeldt & Adler, P.A., a law firm that had collapsed following the revelation of its principal's $1.2 billion Ponzi scheme; this resulted in a 100 percent distribution to the victim-creditors of Rothstein's fraud. He has also served as U.S. special counsel to the chapter 7 trustee of the Ulrich Engler bankruptcy case, involving a $350 million international Ponzi scheme, in which significant recoveries were obtained on behalf of the 7,000 victim-creditors, and he represents the chapter 7 trustee of the Frank Mongeluzzi bankruptcy case, which stemmed from an alleged massive check-kiting scheme. Mr. Elgidely is a board member for the PACE Center for Girls Broward and a mentor to law students at Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law. He is also an active member of the American Bar Association, the Federal Bar Association, the Bankruptcy Bar Association for the Southern District of Florida and the Broward County Bar Association. Selected as a "Top Lawyer" by South Florida Legal Guide, Mr. Elgidely also served in the U.S. Army National Guard and the U.S. Army Reserve from 1989-93, having completed Basic Combat Training in April 1989 at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and advanced individual training as a medic at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, in August 1990. He received his B.A. from Siena College in 1993, his J.D. in 1996 from Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law and his LL.M. in taxation in 1997 from the University of Miami School of Law.

T. Mills Fleming chairs HunterMaclean's health care practice group in Savannah, Ga. His practice concentrates on the general representation of health care systems, specialized regulatory support to health care entities, and specialized projects involving compliance planning, distressed hospital bankruptcy workouts, physician contracting, qui tam/FCA investigations, health care industry restructuring, physician contracting, tax-exempt entities and intermediate sanctions, reimbursement, fraud and abuse, managed care, and health care policy. He also assists clients with compliance self-assessments and remedial actions, hospital board governance, Stark Law compliance assessments, and the development of multi-provider joint ventures. Mr. Fleming is a past president of the Georgia Academy of Healthcare Attorneys and a member of the American Health Lawyers Association, as well as the Health Law Section of the State Bar of Georgia. He is widely published in a number of health care-related journals and speaks regularly on related topics. In 2016, the State Bar of Georgia and the Chief Justice's Commission on Professionalism awarded Mr. Fleming with the Justice Robert Benham Award for Community Service. He has received additional recognition by Chambers USA, The Best Lawyers in America and Georgia Trend Magazine's "Legal Elite," and he is AV-Rated by Martindale-Hubbe. Mr. Fleming received both his undergraduate degree and J.D. from the University of Florida.

Curt S. Friedberg is a shareholder with GGG Partners, LLC in Atlanta and has experience in operations, finance, technology, sales and marketing to guide and advise businesses of all sizes, including publicly traded companies, privately held businesses, startups and nonprofit organizations. He has held numerous positions as an owner, employee or interim executive working with companies to effect change, and has had years of direct, hands-on work in investment banking, venture capital, software application development, supply-chain management, financial analysis, strategic consulting and fundraising, to name a few areas. Over the last six years, Mr. Friedberg has been entrenched in the transportation and logistics industry, in which he has engaged in more than 60 different engagements, helping companies large and small work through their financial, operational, technical and sales issues. He serves in a variety of interim executive positions on behalf of GGG clients, such as CEO, COO, CFO, CTO, CIO, CRO, director of reorganization, board of advisors, board of directors, financial advisor and business consultant. Mr. Friedberg has successfully turned around distressed businesses, negotiated forbearances with lenders, renegotiated leases with landlords, executed settlements with vendors and suppliers, increased sales, sold businesses, raised capital, integrated information systems, and provided growth plans for numerous companies. He has consulted with hundreds of companies across various industries, including health care, transportation, automotive, financial services, manufacturing, petroleum, pharmaceutical, real estate, retail, technology, telecommunications and utilities, among others. Mr. Friedberg received his B.B.A. magna cum laude from The Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania and attended a commerce and engineering co-op program at Drexel University.

Robert C. Furr is a partner with Furr & Cohen, P.A. in Boca Raton, Fla., and serves as a panel trustee for the U.S. Department of Justice in the Southern District of Florida. He is regularly appointed as a chapter 11 trustee and has been designated as the chapter 12 trustee in the Southern District. Mr. Furr has represented numerous businesses in chapter 7 liquidations and in chapter 11 reorganizations, as well as individuals in complex chapter 7 and chapter 11 proceedings. He lectures frequently on issues of bankruptcy, creditors' rights and remedies before national organizations. Mr. Furr served as editor of NABTalk from 2000-05 and sat on NABT's board of directors from 2000-11, serving as president during the 2008-09 term. He is currently serving as secretary on the board of the American Board of Certification. Mr. Furr is a contributor to the ABI Journal and is admitted to practice law in Georgia and Florida and in all federal courts in Florida and the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals. In 1983, Mr. Furr became a Board Certified Civil Trial Lawyer by the Florida Bar, and in 1994 he received an AV rating by Martindale-Hubbell. He is listed in The Best Lawyers in America and in Florida Super Lawyers and is a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy. Mr. Furr received his J.D. from Emory University in 1975.

Edward T. Gavin, CTP is a managing director and founding partner of Gavin/Solmonese LLC in Wilmington, Del., where he leads the firm's Corporate Recovery Practice and specializes in complex bankruptcy matters, representing debtors and creditors as financial advisor, asset-sale advisor, Chief restructuring officer or in other responsible party roles. In addition, he is frequently appointed liquidating trustee, litigation trustee or plan administrator over post-confirmation liquidating trusts. Mr. Gavin is an expert on rapid § 363 asset-sale processes and other matters pertinent to creditor representations, SPM gifts and the evaluation of claims against insiders. His engagements have included responsibilities as bankruptcy and nonbankruptcy financial advisor to debtors and creditors' committees, bankruptcy and nonbankruptcy interim management appointments, business viability assessments, mergers and acquisitions, business integrations and strategic sales, corporate strategy and policy development and implementation, e-commerce and marketing strategy development, process re-engineering, and enterprise resource planning (ERP) system implementation and assessment. His roles have also included regulatory affairs management positions in FDA-regulated organizations, including the leadership of process re-engineering to remediate violations of FDA regulations. Mr. Gavin is ABI's Vice President-Development, co-chaired ABI's Financial Advisors & Investment Banking Committee from 2010-12 and is a former co-chair and education director of ABI's Ethics and Professional Compensation Committee. He is a 30th Anniversary Circle contributor to ABI's Endowment Fund and co-chaired ABI's Mid-Atlantic Bankruptcy Workshop from 2009-14. He also served on ABI's Civility Task Force and National Ethics Standards Task Force, and led that group's Committee Solicitation Protocols Subcommittee. A contributing editor for the ABI Journal's "Last In Line" and "Financial Statements" columns, Mr. Gavin also writes the "Turnaround Tactics" blog for Forbes and has written extensively for such publications as The Journal of Corporate Renewal, Business Credit Magazine, Credit & Collections Risk Magazine, ABF Journal, ABL Advisor and the Daily Bankruptcy Review, among others. A member of the Association of Certified Turnaround Professionals and the Turnaround Management Association, and an associate member of the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners, he attended the University of the Arts in Philadelphia, studying music theory and education.

Craig M. Geno is a member of the Law Offices of Craig M. Geno, PLLC in Ridgeland, Miss., where his practice consists of representing secured and unsecured creditors, unsecured creditors' committees, chapter 11 debtors in possession and bankruptcy trustees in chapter 7 and 11 cases. He was previously a partner at Harris Jernigan & Geno, PLLC. Mr. Geno is a member of the American, Mississippi and Federal Bar Associations and the Mississippi Bankruptcy Conference. He is also a member of ABI, the Business Bankruptcy Subcommittee of the Section of Business Law of the American Bar Association, and the Turnaround Management Association. Mr. Geno is a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy. He is certified in Business Bankruptcy Law by the American Board of Certification and served on its board of directors for eight years. Mr. Geno served as the Mississippi State Bar special counsel for the Committee on Character and Fitness from 1984-87 and was a committee member from 1987-2013. He has served as a trustee in chapter 11 cases. In addition, Mr. Geno is a frequent writer and lecturer on various bankruptcy topics. He received his liberal arts and law degrees from the University of Mississippi, where he served on the Moot Court Board.

David E. Gordon is a partner with Dentons US LLP in Atlanta, where he concentrates his practice on business bankruptcy with a particular focus on health care industry restructuring. He has experience with private equity, REITs, hospitals, health care systems, assisted living facilities, purchasers of distressed assets, secured and unsecured creditors, committees and other parties-in-interest in chapter 11 reorganization proceedings throughout the U.S. He also has significant nonbankruptcy transactional and litigation experience in both state and federal courts. Mr. Gordon regularly represents lenders in all areas of creditors' rights litigation. His transactional experience includes representing purchasers in § 363 sales and representing various parties in problem loan workouts, bridge loans and other financings, forbearance agreements, and other distressed transactions. Mr. Gordon is currently an adjunct professor of law at the Emory University School of Law, where he teaches an upper-level course in complex chapter 11 restructurings. He received his B.A. in 2003 from Georgetown University and his J.D. with honors in 2006 from Emory University School of Law.

Neil C. Gordon is a partner in the Atlanta office of Arnall Golden Gregory LLP. He previously served for two years as a law clerk in Atlanta for U.S. District Court Judge Robert L. Vining, Jr. followed by 35 years in private practice, with the last 32 years being exclusively in the areas of bankruptcy, business reorganization, fraud investigations and creditors' rights. Mr. Gordon represents trustees and receivers throughout the country, including in Delaware litigation that recently settled for approximately $40 million. He chaired the Bankruptcy Law Section of the Atlanta Bar Association from 1992-93, has been a panel trustee since 1994, and also serves as a SEC receiver. Mr. Gordon was first elected to the board of the National Association of Bankruptcy Trustees in 2000. He has held every office including president (2011-12) and for eight years chaired its Amicus Committee. Mr. Gordon has authored or co-authored more than 70 scholarly articles and book chapters on bankruptcy law related topics and has made over 100 seminar presentations throughout the country. A Lifetime Member of ABI, he served for three years ending in April 2015 as co-chair of its Legislation Committee. He is a member of the NABT President's Circle, a Master of the Bench in the W. Homer Drake, Jr., Georgia Bankruptcy American Inns of Court, and a Fellow of the American College of Bankruptcy. Mr. Gordon received his B.B.A. with a focus on real estate and urban land studies in 1976 from the University of Florida and his J.D. in 1979 from the University of Georgia School of Law.

Isley M. Gostin is a counsel at WilmerHale in Washington, D.C., where she represents clients in all stages of complex litigation and bankruptcy proceedings, including trial and appeals. Her appellate experience on issues of bankruptcy law includes representing parties in the U.S. Supreme Court and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the First, Third, Fifth and Eleventh Circuits and amicus curiae in the Supreme Court and federal courts of appeals. Before joining WilmerHale in 2011, Ms. Gostin was a law clerk for Hon. Robert E. Gerber of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York. She received her B.A. cum laude from Harvard College and her J.D. cum laude from Harvard Law School.

James S. Hadfield is a managing director at Guggenheim Securities, LLC in Atlanta, where his team's practice focuses on debt placement, distressed transactions and restructuring advisory for middle-market companies. He has spent his career in credit and restructuring, with similar roles at Cerberus Capital Management and Houlihan Lokey. An active member of various professional services organizations, Mr. Hadfield currently serves on chapter and advisory boards for the Turnaround Management Association and ABI, respectively.

A. Lee Hogewood, III is a partner in the Raleigh, N.C., office of K&L Gates LLP and concentrates his practice on complex commercial litigation, with an emphasis on representing creditors in litigation, bankruptcy and insolvency proceedings. He litigates in all North Carolina state and federal courts, including bankruptcy court, and handles a wide variety of business disputes including commercial and corporate contract disputes, real estate disputes and matters involving fraud, misrepresentation, and unfair and deceptive trade practices. He also has significant experience defending commercial and consumer lenders in litigation in federal, state and bankruptcy court in a wide variety of lender-liability actions. Mr. Hogewood maintains an active appellate practice successfully representing clients before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, the North Carolina Supreme Court, and North Carolina Court of Appeals. In addition, he regularly advises clients regarding the resolution of financial disputes through consensual out-of-court restructurings and also represents purchasers of assets in § 363 sales. Mr. Hogewood chaired the North Carolina Bar Association's Bankruptcy Section from 2009-10 and continues to be active in it. He received his A.B. cum laude in 1987 from Harvard College and his J.D. cum laude in 1990 from Wake Forest University, where he served as a managing editor of the Wake Forest Law Review.

Hon. Kevin R. Huennekens was appointed as a U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Eastern District of Virginia in Richmond on Sept. 11, 2006. Prior to his appointment, Judge Huennekens was a partner with the firm of Kutak Rock LLP. He also served as a panel trustee for the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia (1988-2006) and is co-editor of the Virginia CLE publication Bankruptcy Practice in Virginia (2012). Judge Huennekens is a Fellow of the American College of Bankruptcy and a member of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges and ABI. He was also recognized in Who's Who Legal USA in Insolvency and Restructuring and The International Who's Who of Insolvency and Restructuring in 2006, and was listed in The Best Lawyers in America from 1995-2006. Judge Huennekens was an adjunct professor of law at the College of William & Mary Marshall Wythe School of Law from 1993-96, and he successfully argued the case of Patterson v. Shumate, 405 U.S. 253, 112 S. Ct. 2242 (1992), before the U.S. Supreme Court. He is a planning committee member of the annual Mid-Atlantic Institute on Bankruptcy and Reorganization Practice and has also been a speaker at Virginia CLE courses on basic and advanced bankruptcy. He is also a co-editor of the Virginia CLE Publication, Bankruptcy Practice in Virginia (2017). Judge Huennekens received his B.A. from the College of William & Mary and his J.D. from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law at the College of William & Mary, where he was a member of the Order of the Coif and its law review.

James R. Irving is a partner at Bingham Greenebaum Doll LLP in Louisville, Ky., where he focuses his practice on bankruptcy matters and creditors' rights, as well as commercial litigation. He has experience representing debtors, creditors, committees, trustees, buyers of distressed assets, and creditors in chapter 11 and chapter 7 bankruptcy cases, and he has handled matters for clients in such industries as health care, energy, manufacturing and retail. He has also practiced commercial litigation with a broad range of experience in state and federal courts and before the American Arbitration Association. Mr. Irving received the Chicago Bar Association's Exceptional Young Lawyer Award in 2013. His experience with matters of juvenile justice through his pro bono work has led to opportunities to teach CLEs and edit publications on the subject for the American Bar Association. Mr. Irving is admitted to practice in Illinois and Kentucky, as before the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Kentucky, the Northern and Southern Districts of Indiana, the Northern District of Illinois, and the Western Districts of Michigan and Wisconsin. He is a member of ABI and the Illinois and American Bar Associations. Mr. Irving received his B.A. in 2005 in history and political science from Williams College and his J.D. in 2008 from Vanderbilt University Law School.

John F. Isbell is a partner in the Business Restructuring, Creditors' Rights & Bankruptcy practice group of Thompson Hine and is based in the firm's Atlanta office. He concentrates his practice in the areas of bankruptcy and insolvency law, including insolvency-related commercial litigation in both state and federal courts. Mr. Isbell represents secured lenders, debtors/borrowers, official committees of unsecured creditors, landlords, and other parties in interest in relation to, among other things, bankruptcy cases, receivership litigation, workouts, restructurings and state court foreclosures and confirmation proceedings. He frequently lectures on bankruptcy and commercial litigation topics before bar and trade groups, as well as continuing legal education programs. Mr. Isbell is a member of the State Bar of Georgia, Alabama State Bar, American Bar Association, ABI, Atlanta Bar Association, Turnaround Management Association, and the Southeastern Bankruptcy Law Institute's board of directors. He is listed in The Best Lawyers in America for 2017, in Georgia Super Lawyers for 2014-17, as a "Rising Star" in Georgia Super Lawyers magazine from 2012-13, in Georgia Trend's 2012 Legal Elite and in Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers. Mr. Isbell received his B.A. in 1996 from the University of the South and his J.D. summa cum laude in 2000 from the University of Alabama Law School.

Jay C. Jacquin, CIRA is a managing director with Guggenheim Securities, LLC in Atlanta and has more than 18 years of investment banking experience, focusing on middle-market merger and acquisition, financing, and restructuring advisory services. He is experienced in a wide variety of corporate finance transactions, including restructurings, reorganizations, exclusive sale mandates, acquisitions, debt and equity financings, leveraged buyouts, fairness opinions, business valuations and intangible-asset valuations. Over the course of his career, Mr. Jacquin has completed in excess of 80 transactions totaling more than $5 billion in enterprise value. He has worked with clients across a diverse range of industries, including telecommunications, housing, energy, transportation, plastics, sporting equipment, restaurants, health care, retail, software, manufacturing, paper and packaging, and amusement. Most recently, Mr. Jacquin was a director with Morgan Joseph TriArtisan LLC in its Recapitalization & Restructuring Group. Before joining Morgan Joseph, he was a senior director with Alvarez & Marsal Corporate Finance, and before that, he spent eight years in the Corporate Finance and Restructuring practices of Houlihan Lokey Howard & Zukin, where he was most recently a vice president. While at Houlihan Lokey, he was primarily responsible for engagement management and personnel development. Mr. Jacquin is a FINRA General Securities Registered Representative (Series 7, 63, 79), and in 2012, he was recognized in the M&A Advisor as a "Top 40 Under 40" advisor for his achievements in the M&A, Financing, and Turnaround industry. He received his bachelor's degree in commerce, with concentrations in finance and marketing, from the McIntire School of Commerce at the University of Virginia.

Henry J. Jaffe is a partner in the Corporate Restructuring and Bankruptcy Practice Group of Pepper Hamilton LLP in its Wilmington, Del., office. He represents clients in bankruptcy matters, including debtors, trustees and creditors' committees, as well as secured, unsecured and administrative claimants. Mr. Jaffe has represented members of creditors' committees in several high-profile bankruptcy cases and has served as national bankruptcy counsel for major manufacturers and retailers in various industries. He has defended and prosecuted scores of avoidance actions in jurisdictions throughout the country and assisted creditors on a broad range of insolvency issues, including the assumption and renegotiation of complex executory contracts and leases. Mr. Jaffe has served as counsel for receivers in federal and state receivership actions. Since 2016, he has been recognized as a leading Delaware bankruptcy practitioner by Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business. Mr. Jaffe is a nationally recognized author and lecturer on bankruptcy topics. Since 2003, he has authored or co-authored the article under § 547 of the Bankruptcy Code (preferences) for Norton's Annual Survey of Bankruptcy Law and was a co-author for the ABI's recent publication Representing the Creditors' Committee: A Guide for Practitioners. He has also written and lectured extensively on the bankruptcy case of General Motors and has published feature articles in Law 360. Mr. Jaffe received his B.A. from Columbia University in 1986 and his J.D. from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1991.

Hon. Clifton R. Jessup is a U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Northern District of Alabama in Decatur, appointed on March 2, 2015. He was formerly a principal shareholder in the Dallas office of the international law firm of Greenburg Traurig, LLP where he concentrated his practice in business reorganization and bankruptcy. During his more than 35 years of bankruptcy-related practice before taking the bench, Judge Jessup represented secured creditors, unsecured creditors, committees, equity-holders, debtors and trustees in federal bankruptcy cases in more than 37 states and Puerto Rico. He also represented purchasers of assets in bankruptcy cases, and served as examiner and mediator in many cases. Judge Jessup received his J.D. in 1978 from the University of Michigan.

Hon. Benjamin A. Kahn is a U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Middle District of North Carolina in Greensboro, sworn in on Feb. 3, 2014. Prior to his appointment, he was a member of Nexsen Pruet PLLC and clerked for Bankruptcy Judge Jerry G. Tart of the Middle District of North Carolina. Judge Kahn was recognized as among the Top 10 North Carolina Super Lawyers across all practice areas for the two years immediately preceding his appointment, was elected to the Legal Elite Hall of Fame by Business North Carolina Magazine in 2014 as a result of being the category winner in North Carolina for bankruptcy, and was included among Band 1 bankruptcy practitioners in North Carolina in Chambers & Partners USA. He is certified as a specialist in business and consumer bankruptcy law by the North Carolina State Bar Board of Legal Specialization and by the American Board of Certification, for which he served as a member of its board of directors until his appointment to the bench. Judge Kahn is a conferee of the National Bankruptcy Conference and an inactive certified mediator with the State of North Carolina Dispute Resolution Commission. He received his B.A. in political science and history in 1990, and his J.D. with honors in 1993, from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Charles N. Kelley, Jr. is an attorney with Kelley & Clements LLP in Gainesville, Ga., where he focuses his practice on insolvency issues, representing individuals and small business debtors and creditors in cases under chapters 7, 11, 12 and 13, as well as in state law receiverships and out-of-court debt restructurings. He is a member of the board of directors of the Southeastern Bankruptcy Law Institute, the Bench and Bar Committee for the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia and ABI. Mr. Kelley is admitted to practice law in Georgia and before the U.S. District Courts for the Northern and Middle Districts of Georgia and Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals. He received his Bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology in 1989 and his J.D. cum laude from Georgia State University College of Law, where he served as managing editor of the Georgia State University Law Review.

Salene Rae Mazur Kraemer, CTP is an attorney in the Southpointe, Pa., office of Bowles Rice LLP, where she focuses her practice on creditors' rights and bankruptcy law, business and corporate transactions, financial services litigation and commercial and banking law. Over the course of her career, she has worked on complex, multimillion dollar matters including corporate and commercial bankruptcy work for creditors, and has provided counsel on issues relating to tax modifications, business formation, financing and general corporate matters for small to large companies. Ms. Kraemer was named a "Rising Star" in the fields of Business Law and Bankruptcy by West Virginia Super Lawyers and has served as a panelist for various conferences, including ABI's Mid-Atlantic Bankruptcy Workshop. She received her B.A. in political science magna cum laude and her M.B.A. magna cum laude from West Virginia University, and her J.D. from Villanova University School of Law, where she was a judicial extern for Hon. Joseph McGlynn of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

Prof. Angela K. Littwin studies bankruptcy, consumer, and commercial law from an empirical perspective at the University of Texas School of Law in Austin. Her current research includes studying the attitudes towards bankruptcy among consumers being sued by debt collectors, as well as the relationship between consumer credit and domestic violence (DV). Prof. Littwin has published in journals such as the University of Pennsylvania Law Review, the California Law Review and the American Bankruptcy Law Journal. She has recently published article about the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's complaints process and supervision program, as well as on how consumer bankruptcy attorneys adapted to the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act. Prof. Littwin has been a principal investigator for a number of empirical projects and is currently interviewing DV victims about coerced debt, which occurs when the batterer in an abusive relationship uses fraud or coercion to generate debt in the name of the victim. She also helped develop a coerced debt survey conducted by the National Domestic Violence Hotline. Previously, Prof. Littwin was a principal investigator on the 2007 Consumer Bankruptcy Project, which has been the leading study of consumer bankruptcy for the past 35 years. She has also conducted a study on low-income women's use of credit cards. Prof. Littwin received her undergraduate degree from Brown University and her J.D. from Harvard Law School in 2002. After law school, she clerked for Hon. Rosemary Barkett of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit and founded ROAD (Reaching Out About Depression), a community-organizing project for low-income women. Prior to her appointment at the University of Texas School of Law, she was a Climenko Fellow and Lecturer on Law at Harvard Law School. She joined the UT faculty in 2008.

Luis M. Lluberas is a member in the Bankruptcy & Financial Restructuring practice group of Moore & Van Allen PLLC in Charlotte, N.C., where his practice encompasses a broad range of financial services matters, with a focus on the resolution of troubled credits. He is a member of the firm's Diversity Committee and is the chair of the firm's Lawyers of Color affinity group. Mr. Lluberas is experienced in representing key stakeholders in connection with all aspects of financial restructuring matters in a variety of industries, including commercial real estate, energy, health care, manufacturing, retail, technology and transportation. He routinely represents financial institutions in both lender and agent capacities, in syndicated credit facilities and in other secured lending transactions. His out-of-court experience includes workouts, debt-to-equity swaps and secured party sales, and his in-court experience includes large corporate chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings, receiverships, and foreclosure actions. He has also represented financial institutions in the preparation of intercreditor agreements, creditors in the defense of avoidance actions, and investors in connection with the development of commercial real estate. In 2015, Mr. Lluberas received the Turnaround Management Association's Turnaround of the Year: Small Company award for his work as counsel to the receiver in the Bost Distributing Co. matter. Since 2014, he has been recognized annually as a "Rising Star" in bankruptcy as published by North Carolina Super Lawyers magazine. He received his B.A. with highest distinction and his J.D. with honors from The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Cynthia J. Lowery is a member of Moore & Van Allen PLLC's management committee and co-leader of its Bankruptcy and Financial Restructuring team in Charleston, S.C., and brings nearly 30 years of experience to her practice area. She is a frequent speaker on creditors' rights and is a bankruptcy specialist certified by the State of South Carolina. Mr. Lowery handles clients in all areas of collections and creditors' rights, including bankruptcy, restructurings, foreclosures and execution of judgments. A frequent speaker, she provides in-house training to creditors, educating various businesses on the proper and most efficient means for collections, including their rights and remedies in bankruptcy. Ms. Lowery has worked closely with credit unions for more than 25 years. In 1993, she was appointed to the U.S. Panel of Chapter 7 Bankruptcy Trustees for the State of South Carolina, resigning in 2000 to devote more time to creditor representation. Ms. Lowery is a past chair of The Supreme Court of South Carolina Commission's Bankruptcy and Debtor-Creditor Law Specialization Advisory Board. She is licensed in both South Carolina and North Carolina courts. Ms. Lowery received her B.S. in 1983 from the College of Charleston and her J.D. in 1988 from Wake Forest University.

Daniel E. Melchi is a partner with Lueder, Larkin & Hunter, LLC in Alpharetta, Ga., and is the lead attorney for the firm's Bankruptcy Division, where he represents creditors. Previously, he was with the U.S. Small Business Administration's Disaster Assistance Office in Atlanta, then became an assistant solicitor general for Fulton County, conducting criminal prosecution trials and assisting victims. He also participated as a prosecutor for the Treatment Diversion Court, a court to assist defendants with mental health problems. Mr. Melchi practices mainly in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia, but he is also admitted to practice in the Middle and Southern Districts of Georgia, the Northern District of Florida, the Southern District of Indiana and the District of Colorado. In addition, he is licensed to practice in New York, and before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit and the U.S. Supreme Court. Mr. Melchi is a member of the Forsyth County Bar Association, the Metro Atlanta Consumer Bankruptcy Attorney Group (MACBAG) and the Community Association Institute of Georgia (CAI). He received a B.A. in 2001 in political science and a B.A. in communications/advertising, and his J.D. in 2004 from Georgia State University College of Law, during which time he interned for Congressman John Lewis and participated in an externship with the Office of the Fulton County Solicitor General.

Jennifer M. Meyerowitz is a managing director of business development with GCG, LLC in Lake Success, N.Y., and leads the company's restructuring business development efforts. She has 15 years of experience in bankruptcy, restructuring and settlement administration as an attorney, consultant and company leader. Ms. Meyerowitz is responsible for creating and executing the company's long-term growth strategy, as well as providing a seamless and tailored experience for GCG's clients. Before she joined GCG, she spent eight years in business-development leadership roles, most recently serving as the vice president of business development for a chapter 7 trustee legal technology start-up, where she managed the sales team and served as the liaison between clients and operations. Prior to that, she was a vice president for a global legal technology and services company, with responsibility for development, legal consulting and strategic communications, compliance and logistics, and case-management functions for the company's bankruptcy and restructuring settlement services. Ms. Meyerowitz began her career as a practicing attorney at Alston & Bird LLP, where she represented debtors, secured and unsecured creditors, creditors' committees and trustees in complex workouts, debt restructurings, commercial litigation and chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings for nearly 10 years. She received her B.A. from the University of Michigan and her J.D. from Emory University School of Law, where she was executive notes and comments editor for the Emory Bankruptcy Developments Journal.

Jimmy D. Parrish is a partner in the Orlando, Fla., office of BakerHostetler in its Bankruptcy, Restructuring and Creditors' Rights group and is experienced in a broad range of insolvency and business bankruptcy matters. He is Board Certified in Business Bankruptcy by the American Board of Certification and has represented corporate debtors, committees, trustees, secured lenders and other creditors in virtually every industry, including agriculture, airline, health care, manufacturing, communications, real estate, hospitality and energy. Mr. Parrish is admitted to practice in Alabama and Florida and before U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, as well as the U.S. District Courts for the Northern, Southern and Middle Districts of Florida. He has been recognized for his expertise in Bankruptcy/Restructuring in current and past editions of Chambers USA, The Best Lawyers in America, Florida Trend Legal Elite and Florida Super Lawyers. Mr. Parrish received his B.A. in 1997 from the University of Alabama and his J.D. in 2000 from the University of Alabama School of Law.

Edward J. Peterson, III is a shareholder with Stichter, Riedel, Blain & Postler, P.A. in Tampa, Fla., where he specializes in the representation of debtors and creditors in out-of-court workouts, bankruptcy cases and proceedings, and state court proceedings. He also has experience representing creditor committees. Mr. Peterson has represented both assignors and assignees in assignments for the benefit of creditors. He also serves as conflicts counsel in the Butler & Hosch assignment cases. Previously, Mr. Peterson served as debtor's counsel in the chapter 11 case of Viper Ventures, LLC, which owns 30 acres of commercial land in Tampa. The debtor was able to restructure approximately $17 million in debt to Wells Fargo Bank through a plan of reorganization. Mr. Peterson also was lead debtor's counsel in the chapter 11 case of Boyd Brothers, Inc., a printing company in Panama City, Fla., that employs approximately 110 employees, and was lead counsel for several shopping centers that filed for chapter 11 protection. Moreover, Mr. Peterson served as lead counsel in the chapter 11 case of South Bay Lube, which owns 23 Jiffy Lube stores and employs over 200 employees. He was co-lead counsel in the chapter 11 case of Taylor, Bean & Whitaker Mortgage Corp. that was filed in Jacksonville, Fla., with approximately $1 billion in assets and liabilities, and served as co-counsel in the chapter 11 case filed by Ocala Funding, LLC, a subsidiary of Taylor Bean that had approximately $3 billion in liabilities and $1 billion in assets. Mr. Peterson received his B.A. in economics in 1995 from Kenyon College and his J.D. magna cum laude in 1999 from the University of Alabama, where he was a member of the Order of the Coif.

Jeffrey M. Pomeroy is executive vice president and general counsel of Bayer Properties, L.L.C., a Birmingham, Ala.-based developer, owner and operator of premium lifestyle, mixed-use, office and power center projects throughout the country. He joined Bayer in 2003 as vice president and assistant general counsel, then was named general counsel in 2011 and executive vice president in 2013. Mr. Pomeroy serves on the company's Executive Committee and directs all legal, risk-management and lease-administration activities for Bayer and the company's real estate portfolio. Prior to joining Bayer Properties, he was in private practice with the law firm of Sirote & Permutt, P.C. in Birmingham, where he was a member of the firm's Business and Financial Services practice group. He was also previously in-house counsel for AmSouth Bank and AmSouth Bancorporation. Mr. Pomeroy has been a panelist at ICSC's annual Law Conference. He is a member of the Association of Corporate Counsel and a past president of the board of directors of the Alabama chapter. He is also a member of the American and Birmingham Bar Associations, and the International Council of Shopping Centers (ICSC). Mr. Pomeroy received his undergraduate degree from Birmingham-Southern College and his J.D. from Cumberland School of Law at Samford University.

Margaret W.S. Puccini is a partner in the Savannah, Ga., law firm of Bouhan Falligant LLP. Her practice areas include bankruptcy, creditors' rights, construction and commercial litigation, mechanics' and materialmen's liens, representation of condominium and homeowners' associations, and landlord/tenant disputes. Ms. Puccini is a member of the State Bar of Georgia and the Savannah Bar Association. She is also a member of the Bankruptcy Law Section of the State Bar, ABI and the National Association of Women in Construction. She currently serves as the president of the Savannah Bar Association and as a master in the W. Homer Drake, Jr., Georgia Bankruptcy American Inn of Court. She also serves on the Bankruptcy Lawyer Advisory Committee of the Bankruptcy Court of the Southern District of Georgia. Ms. Puccini has been recognized by Georgia Trend Magazine as "Legal Elite" in 2016 and 2017 and by Super Lawyers in 2017. She received her B.S. magna cum laude from Armstrong Atlantic State University and her J.D. from Mercer University School of Law.

Eric W. Roach is a staff attorney for Nancy J. Whaley, Standing Chapter 13 Trustee, in Atlanta. For more than 10 years, he has represented the chapter 13 trustee's interests in the Northern District of Georgia. Previously, Mr. Roach represented debtors in bankruptcy and served as an officer of the Metro Atlanta Consumer Bankruptcy Attorney Group. He also served as a board member on the Bankruptcy Section for the Atlanta Bar Association. Mr. Roach received his B.A. in political science from Valdosta State University and his J.D. from the John Marshall School of Law.

Richard A. Robinson is the managing partner of Burr & Forman LLP's Wilmington, Del., office and has more than 25 years of experience in counseling corporate clients in connection with chapter 11 cases and insolvency matters. He represents lenders, borrowers, debtors-in-possession, liquidators, buyers, creditors, consultants, lessors, contractors, trustees and receivers in every aspect of business bankruptcy and insolvency law, including the negotiation, structuring and documentation of complex commercial loans and related transactions, as well as in out-of-court workouts and related restructurings. He also litigates and provides clients with advice in connection with the structuring of complex lending and other commercial transactions. Mr. Robinson has experience in numerous industries, including health care, food, real estate development, music, construction, gaming, heavy manufacturing and distribution. He is a frequent media source and speaker on issues related to bankruptcy and insolvency matters. Previously, Mr. Robinson practiced for more than nine years as a partner in the Delaware office of Reed Smith and for more than 12 years at BakerHostetler in Orlando, Fla. He is a member of the American Bar Association, ABI, Turnaround Management Association and Commercial Finance Association, and he has been listed in Chambers USA for Bankruptcy/Restructuring from 2011-17. Mr. Robinson received his B.A. from Binghamton University, State University of New York, Harpur College in 1987 and his J.D. in 1990 from Vanderbilt University School of Law.

Joseph Rodgers is a managing director and Southeast Region Group Head at Monroe Capital LLC in Atlanta, where he focuses on credit solutions for lower-middle-market companies. Previously, he was a managing director and group head of Capital Advisory at KPMG Corporate Finance LLC and a managing director at Cerberus Capital Management, L.P., as well as a director at Cratos Capital and a senior vice president with CIT/Business Capital. Mr. Rodgers has 23 years of experience in various corporate finance roles spanning across investment banking, consulting and lending. He received his B.S. in finance from the University of Florida.

Ashley S. Rusher is a practitioner with Blanco Tackabery & Matamoros, P.A. in Winston-Salem, N.C., where she serves on the firm's Management Committee and chairs both the Business Bankruptcy and Creditor's Rights Practice Group and the Outside General Counsel Services Practice Group. She has a regional bankruptcy practice representing financial institutions, trade creditors, adversary proceeding defendants, bankruptcy trustees, landlords and tenants, creditors' committees and chapter 11 debtors-in-possession in the workout and restructuring of distressed debt. Ms. Rusher provides an array of creditors' rights services to clients including problem loan recovery, asset recovery and commercial litigation. She also represents a number of the largest title companies operating in North Carolina on title curative matters, including actions to quiet title, reformation and imposition of equitable liens. Ms. Rusher has been recognized in The Best Lawyers in America in the areas of Bankruptcy and Litigation, and in Legal Elite (Women in Business Award), Triad Business Journal (Women Extraordinaire Award) and Business Leader Magazine. Ranked AV-Preeminent by Martindale-Hubbell for more than 10 years, she currently chairs the Bankruptcy Section of the North Carolina Bar Association and is admitted to practice in North Carolina and Georgia. Ms. Rusher received her B.A. in 1984 and her J.D. in 1987 from the University of Kentucky.

Jay M. Sakalo is the practice group leader of the Business Finance & Restructuring Group at Bilzin Sumberg Baena Price & Axelrod, LLP in Miami and represents a broad array of constituents in the restructuring and bankruptcy arena in matters around the country. In particular, he frequently represents secured lenders and private-equity funds in distressed out-of-court restructurings and chapter 11 cases. Mr. Sakalo has significant experience representing official and ad hoc creditor committees, including in the W.R. Grace and U.S. Gypsum chapter 11 cases. His representations have spanned across many industries, including real estate, health care, aviation and gaming. Mr. Sakalo is a frequent speaker on restructuring and bankruptcy topics. He received his J.D. from the University of Florida College of Law.

J. Ellsworth Summers, Jr. is a shareholder with Burr & Forman LLP in Jacksonville, Fla., where he practices in the areas of bankruptcy, creditors' rights and commercial litigation. He is admitted to practice in the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals, and the state and federal courts in the State of Florida and the Commonwealth of Virginia. Prior to joining Burr & Forman LLP, Mr. Summers was a partner with the Jacksonville-based law firm of Rogers Towers, P.A. where he led the firm's bankruptcy group. After law school, he clerked for Hon. Stephen C. St. John, Chief United States Bankruptcy Judge for the Eastern District of Virginia. Mr. Summers is a member of ABI, the Florida Bar Association, the Virginia Bar Association and the Jacksonville Bankruptcy Bar Association. He has appeared before state and federal courts in 14 states, the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court of Virginia. Mr. Summers is AV-rated by Martindale-Hubbell and has routinely been named to the Florida Super Lawyers, Florida Legal Elite, Florida Best Lawyers and Jacksonville's Best Lawyers lists. He received his B.A. cum laude from Hampden-Sydney College and his J.D. cum laude from Stetson University College of Law, where he was a member of the Stetson Law Review.

M. Regina Thomas was appointed clerk of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Georgia in Atlanta on Sept. 1, 2009. Previously, she was a managing attorney for the Bankruptcy Group at the law firm of McCalla Raymer, LLC in Atlanta and served as Assistant U.S. Trustee for the Southern District of Florida for three years. She also served as the standing chapter 13 trustee for the Northern District of Georgia for almost 12 years, during which time she administered the largest chapter 13 caseload in the country. Ms. Thomas is president of the National Conference of Bankruptcy Clerks and serves on numerous committees of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, including the Budget and Finance Advisory Council (as chair), Bankruptcy Clerks Advisory Group and Bankruptcy Best Practices Working Group. She was president of the National Association of Chapter 13 Trustees for 2000-01 and chaired its annual educational seminar in New York City in 1999. Ms. Thomas received her J.D. from the University of Florida in 1985.

Scott P. Vaughn is the managing partner of McGuireWoods LLP's Charlotte, N.C., office and primarily represents financial institutions in corporate restructuring, refinancing and all phases of bankruptcy proceedings. He has lectured on bankruptcy law and creditors rights issues for the North Carolina Bar Association, the Mecklenburg County Bar, and numerous banking and finance trade groups. Mr. Vaughn is a member of the Bankruptcy Section of the North Carolina Bar Association and is AV-rated by Martindale-Hubbell. He has been named "Lawyer of the Year" for Bankruptcy and Creditor Debtor Rights/Insolvency and Reorganization Law in Charlotte in The Best Lawyers in America for 2017, listed in America's Leading Lawyers for Business for Bankruptcy/Restructuring in North Carolina and in Chambers USA from 2008-17, and was listed as a "North Carolina Super Lawyer" for Bankruptcy & Creditor/Debtor Rights and Banking in Super Lawyers from 2007-16. Mr. Vaughn received his B.S. in 1983 from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and his J.D. with honors in 1986 from the University of North Carolina School of Law.

Iana Volkov is a member in Cole Schotz P.C.'s Bankruptcy and Corporate Restructuring Department in Hackensack, N.J., and has more than 25 years of experience representing debtors, unsecured creditors' committees, pre-petition and DIP lenders, purchasers of assets, commercial landlords and other contract parties, shareholders, and other parties-in-interest in all aspects of complex business reorganizations, distressed M&A transactions and related litigation. She also has extensive experience in cross-border insolvency proceedings. Ms. Volkov is a frequent speaker on restructuring topics, including cross-border insolvencies and the intersection between bankruptcy and maritime law. She is a member of the New Jersey State Bar Association's Bankruptcy Law Section, ABI, the American Bar Association's Business Law and International Law Sections, the International Women's Insolvency and Restructuring Confederation (IWIRC) and the New York City Bar Association's Committee on Bankruptcy and Corporate Reorganization. Ms. Volkov founded the IWIRC-NJ Network in 2004, was a member of its board of directors, and served on the international board of IWIRC for many years. For her work, she received the 2016 IWIRC-NJ Network Woman of the Year Award. Ms. Volkov received her B.A. from Columbia University and her J.D. from the University of California at Los Angeles School of Law, during which time she interned for Hon. Calvin K. Ashland, then-U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Central District of California and a member of the Bankruptcy Appellate Panel for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Hon. John E. Waites is a U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the District of South Carolina in Columbia, appointed on June 27, 1994, and served as chief judge from March 1, 2006 until March 1, 2013. He presently serves on the Executive Committee for the National Conference of Bankruptcy Judges (NCBJ) as secretary, and he previously served as co-chair of its Legislative Committee and as a member of the NCBJ Board of Governors from 2010-14, as well as various committees, including Public Outreach. On March 15, 2017, Judge Waites was elected president-elect beginning in October 2017, and he will become president of NCBJ in October 2018. On Oct. 1, 2013, he was appointed by the Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court to serve on the Judicial Conference Committee on the Administration of the Bankruptcy System, a post to which he was reappointed in 2016. He also served as a member and chairman of the Bankruptcy Judges Advisory Group for the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts from 2008-13. Judge Waites has served as a member of the Access to Justice Commission of the South Carolina Supreme Court since 2006. In 2016, he was appointed as a member of the South Carolina Bar's Pro Bono Board, having previously served on its Pro Bono Committee. Judge Waites has been awarded several honors, including receiving the Legal Services Corporation's Pro Bono Award and the South Carolina Bar's pro bono award for his efforts to ensure equal access to justice for South Carolina citizens. In addition, he has been presented with the J. Bratton Davis Professionalism Award, the highest honor of the South Carolina Bankruptcy Law Association, and the U.S. District Court Judge Matthew J. Perry, Jr. Civility Award from the Richland County Bar Association. Judge Waites received his undergraduate degree from Davidson College and his J.D. from the University of South Carolina.

Christopher A. Ward co-chairs Polsinelli PC's Bankruptcy & Financial Restructuring Practice and is a managing shareholder of the firm's Wilmington, Del., office, where he represents the firm's Delaware clients and serves as Delaware legal counsel to out-of-state referring law firms, conflicts counsel, contingency fee/avoidance action counsel, and special counsel in various matters pending both nationally and in Delaware. He focuses his practice on corporate bankruptcy, financial restructuring, bankruptcy litigation and distressed-asset sales, as well as non-bankruptcy alternatives, and has represented numerous chapter 11 debtors and unsecured creditors' committees. Mr. Ward is a member of ABI's Board of Directors and Polsinelli's board of directors. He has been recognized for excellence in Delaware Bankruptcy/Restructuring by Chambers USA since 2010, in Super Lawyers for Delaware Bankruptcy & Creditor Rights in 2012 and since 2014, and listed in The Best Lawyers in America for Bankruptcy/Restructuring in Delaware since 2015. Mr. Ward is a member of the Mid-Atlantic Endowment Committee, chair for the Arthur H.N. Schnellling Endowment Fund, and editor and contributor to the app version of Polsinelli's The Devil's Dictionary of Bankruptcy Terms, which is available for free on iTunes. He co-authored ABI's The Chief Restructuring Officer's Guide to Bankruptcy and is currently co-writing A Business Creditors' Guide to Bankruptcy and Debt Collection, to be published by ABI. Mr. Ward received his B.A. from Moravian College in 1995 and his J.D. cum laude from Widener University School of Law in 1999.

Nancy J. Whaley is an attorney and a chapter 12 and 13 trustee for the Northern District of Georgia in Atlanta, where she oversees 39 employees and operates a trust of over $75 million. She is a Fellow of the American College of Bankruptcy and chairs ABI's Southeast Bankruptcy Workshop Advisory Board. Ms. Whaley is a member of the Northern District of Georgia Bankruptcy Court's Bench and Bar Committee and is a barrister for the W. Homer Drake, Jr. Georgia Bankruptcy American Inn of Court. She is a past chair of the Atlanta Bar Association's Bankruptcy Section and also of the State Bar of Georgia's Bankruptcy Section. Ms. Whaley is a past president of the Georgia Association for Women Lawyers and its Foundation, and she has served on the Executive Committee of the State Bar of Georgia and is a member of its Board of Governors. She currently chairs State Bar Finance Committee. Ms. Whaley is an active member in the Association of Chapter 12 Trustees and the National Association of Chapter 13 Trustees and is their representative to the Advisory Committee on Bankruptcy Rules. She taught as an adjunct professor at John Marshall Law School in Atlanta from 2002-14 and retired from the Air Force Reserve in 2009 as a Lieutenant Colonel. Ms. Whaley received her B.A. cum laude from Eureka College, where she was a Ronald Reagan Scholar, and her J.D. from Emory Law School.

Hon. J. Craig Whitley is a U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Western District of North Carolina in Charlotte, appointed in 1994. Prior to his appointment, Judge Whitley practiced almost exclusively in the bankruptcy area representing debtors, creditors and trustees. He also served as a chapter 7 trustee in the Western District of North Carolina. Judge Whitley received his B.A. from Davidson College in 1981 and his J.D. from Wake Forest University School of Law in 1984.

Hon. Michael G. Williamson is Chief U.S. Bankruptcy Judge for the Middle District of Florida in Tampa, initially appointed as bankruptcy judge in March 2000 and as chief judge on Oct. 1, 2015. He is also an adjunct professor at Stetson University College of Law, where he teaches bankruptcy law, and he co-authored West's Bankruptcy Law Manual. Judge Williamson served as a chapter 7 panel trustee from 1977-79 and represented numerous chapter 11 corporate debtors, creditors' committees and trustees in bankruptcy cases throughout Florida for 20 years afterward. He is a past chair of the Committee on Creditors' Rights for the Section of Litigation of the American Bar Association, past chair of the Business Law Section of the Florida Bar and its Bankruptcy/UCC Committee, and a Fellow in the American College of Bankruptcy. Judge Williamson received his undergraduate undergraduate degree from Duke University in 1973 and his J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center in 1976.

Melissa A. Youngman is the principal of Melissa A. Youngman, P.A., in Longwood, Fla., where she represents debtors, creditors and trustees in commercial and consumer bankruptcy cases, commercial litigation, and all types of insolvency proceedings. She is also a Supreme Court of Florida Certified Circuit Court Mediator, and is approved to mediate mortgage-modification mediations in bankruptcy cases pending the Middle District of Florida. A frequent speaker and presenter on bankruptcy law issues, Ms. Youngman received her B.A. from the University of Florida and her J.D. from St. John's University School of Law, during which time she served as an editor of the ABI Law Review and interned for Hon. Joanna Seybert of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York.